I. Read the text below and underline the words related to symptoms and health problems

The Coronavirus

At the end of 2019, a new type of coronavirus started spreading in China: the COVID-19. It is believed that the virus was transmitted from animals to humans. Some of the first cases were diagnosed in people who visited a market selling live seafood and animals. The people affected by this virus reported feeling fever, cough, runny nose, sore throat, headaches, and trouble breathing, which is very similar to a cold or the flu. Although scientists are still investigating this virus it is possible to see some patters, for example how elderly people seem to be more affected by the virus causing them to develop more serious respiratory illnesses that may be dangerous.

There is no specific vaccine or medication to cure the disease, but generally, symptoms will go away on their own. However, experts recommend taking preventive measures such as keeping quarantine, washing your hands, covering your mouth when you sneeze and cough, and avoiding crowded areas.
